

What Helps A Cowboy Or Cowgirl Do Their Job?

Cowboys and cowgirls are real people who have lived and worked in the American West for a long time. They still live and work in the American West today. Many cowboys and cowgirls work long days outside with animals on a ranch. Different tools, clothing, accessories, and animals help cowboys and cowgirls do their jobs. Read the different situations that cowboys and cowgirls experience on the left-hand side. Then read about some of the tools and accessories that help cowboys and cowgirls do their jobs on the right-hand side. Match the solution that helps the cowboy or cowgirl do their job with the correct situation by drawing a line between them.

Situations

The cowgirl is working outside on a hot, sunny day.

The cowboy can't figure out which cows belong to his ranch or his neighbor's ranch.

The cowgirl trains a horse by holding a scratchy and rough rope in her hands.

The cowboy rides a horse that is slow and isn't paying attention.

The cowgirl chases after a cow through prickly bushes.

Solutions

Gloves protect hands.

Boots protect feet and legs.

Spurs on boots help horses move faster.

Hats help prevent sunburn.

Branding irons identify animals.

What Helps A Cowboy Or Cowgirl Do Their Job?

Create a story with a beginning, middle, and ending about a cowboy or cowgirl on a piece of paper or in the space below. Using words, drawings, or both, include some of the situations, tools, and accessories from the previous page in your story.

Title: _____

