Social Story

We are visiting the Art of the West Gallery at the Autry Museum. When we see this room with different artworks, we know we are there.

There are two ways to explore the Art of the West gallery. One way passes that represent religion and rituals. The second way passes by a motorcycle.

---

Here we can learn about different ways people saw the American West.

The tall sculpture is by an artist named, Rose B. Simpson. The sculpture is called, Witness.

Both ways lead to a room with a very tall sculpture and a wall filled with paintings.

---

There is a bench we can sit on if we need to rest.

---

We have visited the Art of the West Gallery! We can exit the gallery the same way we came in, or we can go through the other entrance to see other galleries in the museum.
